Local Beef Producers to Participate!

Beef Quality Assurance or BQA Program is a voluntary beef producer initiated program that places attention on management practices that influences safety, wholesomeness and quality of the beef being raised and marketed. This training program also emphasizes the importance of good record keeping for decision making purposes and the potential for improved marketing opportunities. Participating in the BQA Program has a multitude of benefits to offer not only the producer, but keeps the best interest of the animal in mind as well.
