Extension Updates Five-Year Business Plan

The Cornell Cooperative Extension of Otsego County Board of Directors reviewed and updated its Five-Year Business Plan at its meeting on March 20, 2008. Key elements of the update include acknowledging the need for financial and energy conservation education in the county, adjusting the timetable for funding and building staff, and identifying successes achieved in 2007. The most ambitious goal added to the plan is funding and hiring an educator devoted to teaching financial literacy and energy conservation. The amended Five-Year Business Plan is available as a download from Extension's web site
