Keeping promises is one important way that you show you are trustworthy. Write one promise that you can make and keep this month on the Promise Notes below. Put the notes where you can see them to remind you of your promise. When your promise has been kept, proudly display one note at home for everyone to see, and return one to us!

Remind your children:

Never be afraid to tell the truth!
Everyone makes mistakes.

Trustworthiness needs to be practiced. Give your child the chance to learn and practice this quality. Then, tell us how he/she demonstrated it by returning the attached form to
