Master Gardener Volunteer Site Visit Program

Need an Expert Eye?

- Are you a new homeowner who feels “clueless” about what’s in your garden?
- Do you need a fresh approach to garden maintenance?
- Are you overwhelmed by lawn or garden problems?
- Are you up-to-date on the benefits of composting?

Master Gardener Volunteers On-Site

Cornell Cooperative Extension of Westchester County Master Gardener Volunteers offer an AT-HOME lawn and garden education service through its SITE VISIT PROGRAM.

Learn how to:

- select the right plant for the right place
- prune and deadhead
- be a better gardener

...right in your own yard

A Master Gardener Volunteer will contact you to make an appointment for the site visit based on your schedule and Master Gardener availability and location.

A team of two or three Westchester County Master Gardener Volunteers will visit your garden to help you find solutions to horticultural problems. The team will spend approximately one hour on-site. A written report containing recommendations will follow including pertinent Cornell Cooperative Extension bulletins.

Cost

The site visit fee is $150. Please make checks payable to: Cornell Cooperative Extension of Westchester County.
