Since January 1, 2011, Cornell Cooperative Extension of Wyoming County has been a partner in the CCE North West New York Dairy, Livestock and Field Crop Team. This brings the service of professionals in agronomy, dairy science, entomology, farm business management, Hispanic workforce development, livestock production and small farms.

Local staff continues to provide programming for the maple industry, small fruit and vegetable production, beekeeping, and agricultural literacy.

In this packet, you will find both the Agriculture and Home Gardening enrollment cards for the upcoming year. We encourage you to return your completed enrollment card(s) as soon as possible.

Once again this year, we are offering a discount for multiple Agriculture Program enrollments from the same farm, family, or organization. The first enrollment is $50, each additional enrollment is $40. Please contact our office or go to our website for additional enrollment cards.

Enrollment Benefits:

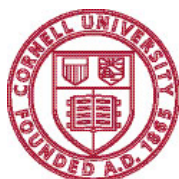

- Announcements on upcoming classes and events and current industry topics of interest to you and . (Double check to make sure all of your interests are checked off on both sides of your enrollment card and include your e-mail address for instant notifications!)
- Our quarterly "Wyoming County Farm News"
- For dairy, livestock and field crop producers, the NWNYS CCE Dairy, Livestock & Field Crops Team's monthly "Ag Focus"
- Discounted prices on classes, services, and resources: Wyoming County Dairy Institute, Commercial Drivers' License (CDL), Pesticide Applicator Training, complete soil analysis, Cornell Dairy and Classic Farm Account books and Diagnostic Services - in office insect, disease, weed or plant identification, and soil pH testing.
